Ballyfermot and Chapelizod Partnership – Local Area Education and Community Development Organisation

Dublin, Ireland

Gamer Type – NOVICE (I am completely new to the concept of Gamification)

Professional:

I am currently working with a local area partnership around education related goals for the wider community such as progressing to higher education, literacy and numeracy skills, youth projects. I work with all of the local schools in the area alongside youth and community groups. Previously I coordinated a Housing and Community Studies degree course for adult learners through Respond Housing Association and University College Dublin. My work-practice is very much associated with interactive and participatory types of learning so I am very interested to learn more about the practice of incorporating game theory into educational settings.

Gamification:

This is completely new to me but I am very interested in what motivates people to learn and participatory and experiential methods of learning.

Interests:

I enjoy swimming and cycling, good food and good company

Gamer in me:

anything fun
